REISSWOLF provides a 360° service portfolio

The REISSWOLF archiving software enables the customer to access to his archived goods.

Task and challenge

After the presentation of the REISSWOLF 360° service portfolio, especially REISSWOLF archiving software solution and the following commercial negotiations, PKF Serbia made a decision to change the local provider for the service of physical archiving. By entering into close cooperation with important for PKF Serbia to use both a custom made package which also is highly standardized, highly secure and in line with international standards.

Client benefits

Changing his service provider for REISSWOLF in the field of physical archiving, PKF is able to meet all requirements it asked for: storage of the recorded goods at an external but highly-secure archive, efficient organization and archive management, fast and reliable data access and delivery, online access and data retrieval and other additional services – and all this even coming with a cost reduction.

» All movements are documented and the sensitive archived goods are accessed by authorized staff only. «

REISSWOLF, the customer intended to upgrade its record management to a solution providing all possible benefits of state-of-the-art records management solutions as well as security procedures.

Solution

REISSWOLF solution included the complete technical and operational relocation of the customer's archived goods from a local provider's site to the REISSWOLF archive in the foreseen deadline.

Data entry to the REISSWOLF archiving software was performed only after defining a customer tailored, professional and individual solution. The customer is now enabled to access to his archived goods using the REISSWOLF archiving software application. At any moment he is able to oversee his complete archive stored and managed at REISSWOLF Serbia. It was
